“ Hey Auk,

I ask myself why everyday!

If I had a chance to have shared something at your funeral I would have read this!

I still Can't believe its been 1 year since you've been gone? A lot of people's lives came to a halt that day. I never truly imagined that you would die! I asked if I should come and (you said)I'll be alright just stay with Duane.

Love you 🥰❤❤

Well

I think that's the hardest part of this to grasp. You're gone forever. No more laughs, no more talks about our kids and grandkids, no more talks about our mom, no more anything. I only seen you occasionally, but I still hear your voice and see your name on our game challenges, in my text and in my contacts. I go to play a game, but know you won't answer back.

I look back on our childhood and all of the silly things we would do together. Catch those mini frogs, go to the y, and Richmond Park. When you were in high school and I was just a middle school kid, we shared our clothes, you'd let me hang around and even go get gas at the gas station with you. Best place ever, that's where you introduced me to Duane! Thank you. The pictures of us going down a slide when I was just a little girl and you were holding on to me for dear life. The endless times we shared baths as little kids, I still have those pictures too.

Even as I grew up and our lives began to part into two different worlds, I married first, you were my maid of honor! Then you got married and moved to the country in Indiana. We still seen each other often, 3 hours was not very far. I will never forget the moment you held my first born, your eyes lit up. Something sisters don't always share, is watching the birth of a child but you were determined to stay in Grand Rapids when my 3rd was about to arrive.. You said you could stay 2 more days or you had to go home. That was already waiting a week. He came and I got to share one of the most precious moments with you. You held him first.. So special, I can close my eyes and always see that memory.

I knew you wanted to be a mom so bad. ..You adopted a beautiful baby girl and it was a blessing from God. She was so tiny and you were a wonderful mom. There are many memories I won't forget and I see you in them. One of the last times I had seen you was at one of my grandkids birthdays at Kevin's house and you were a bit over whelmed with all the busyness. You shared some of your secrets with me, and I with you. We weren't necessarily close all the time, but we didn't need to be. We always had time to listen to each other.

You know how it is when you lose someone, the stage of regret and the feeling that you could have done something more, it never really goes away. I tried to get there, I was to late, I hope that feeling goes away.. What if I could have got there and talked to you once more? What if we could have figured more things out? What if, what if,

Now I stand alone, I was a middle child,, then a youngest child, now an only child!

I will miss you every single day, and wish you were still here. But you will always be my big sister. I love you with all of my heart and I will see you again someday.

Your little sister, Irene💔

“ Lieve Aukje. In 2001 waren wij in Amerika en jij reed ons naar New York en Canada met Ome Jan en Tante Clara. we hebben veel gelachen onderweg met elkaar, vooral om het raampje van de auto wat niet meer dicht ging. Na veel vragen aan iedereen lukte het uiteindelijk toch. Het was gewoon (Push the button) . Dat was lachen en als ik aan je denk dan zie ik dat weer voor me. Het was een mooie tijd met jou. Je blijft in onze gedachten. Love You.
