“ Charlie, you welcomed and supported me as Jason's girlfriend and your friend instantly when I met you. It meant so much to me because I knew how very much you meant to Jason. There was never a dull moment around you-- I would smile and laugh until my face hurt! You had a way of lifting people up and making them feel special, validated, important. I will miss that and your laugh so much. Most of all, I will miss listening to you and Jason share stories, old and new, and crack up in a way that he only did with you. You two created a personality and bond that is so special and rare. My heart breaks for you, for my husband Jason, and for your family. You are forever loved and missed by so many. Wishing you and your family peace.
