“ It has been one whole months since our sons tragic death and we are still trying to piece together the broken parts of our lives. I am beyond humbled at all of the responcees on not only this site but many others. We still need everyones prayers to say the least. I still and will forever miss my son more than anyone could possibly know. I pray that our God blesses each of you for your prayers and support. I truely long for the day that I will be able to once again look on Danny's face someday in the presence of our Lord, and all of our loved ones. As tears roll down my face I just want you all to know I love every one of you. Thank you.##imported-begin##Craig Heflin, Danny's father##imported-end##

“ Craig, Jennifer, Wayne and Josh,

As it's almost been a month since Danny went to be with Jesus, I just wanted to let you know that we are still praying for you all daily and thinking of you always. I was disappointed to not be able to attend Danny's funeral service, but heard it was a beautiful and intimate celebration of his life here on Earth.

May God continue to bless you with peace, love, precious memories, and fulfillment in your heart that you will see Danny again eternally in heaven. Love you all!

“ I sat here thinking, what can a person say to comfort someone at a time like this...I don't know if there are words that could accomplish that. As I read through all the messages left, all I could think was, "what an awesome family we have." At a time like this, the love and faith our family has is strength. I want you all to know that Terri and I are hurting so bad for you right now. Our hearts go out to you and we are keeping you in our prayers. I'm sorry we can't be there in person. We surely would if we could. Please believe that we are there in heart. We love you all and pray that you can find comfort through this.###imported-begin##Ronnie and Terri Staten###imported-end##

“ We are so sorry about Daniel's death.
Sometimes it is so hard for us as humans to understand ..We question why ..
But God has his plans which is far beyond what we can see..
These are for a better life in Heaven..
He knows what lyes up ahead..
Daniel is in a place far better than we are..He is singing with the angels ..
We shall pray for the family ..For death is one of the hardest in life to face ...BUT REMEEMBER THAT God will not put more on you than you can bare###imported-begin##Thurman &Dianne Newsom--

“ Children are not supposed to die...Parents expect to see their children grow and mature. Ultimately, parents expect to die and leave their children behind...This is the natural course of life events, the life cycle continuing as it should. The loss of a child is the loss of innocence, the death of the most vulnerable and dependent. The death of a child signifies the loss of the future, of hopes and dreams, of new strength, and of perfection.

Craig, Jenny, Wayne, and Josh a terrible loss has hit our family. Miles may have us seperated, but please know that our prayers and thoughts are right there with you during these terrible times, in your heart.

“ Jenny & Criag

I have been heart broken since I heard this devastating news. I thought how much more can a person bare losing another love one they way you have. My heart is so heavy for you. I asked God questions about this. It has really troubled me. God gives and God takes, as sure as you are born in this world, some way death will come, unless you be raptured. Gods way's are higher than our way's. He see's the whole picture. Just trust him, I pray for him to send you peace and to comfort you in a way only GOD can. You have been blessed to have Danny the time you have, it is not over, the day will come you'll spend eternity with him. So for now he is at rest waiting for that joyful day when we will reunite with ALL our loved ones. I love you guys.##imported-begin##Debby Staten##imported-end##
