“ its not unusual for me to be awake at 5am thinking about you..words will never be enough to show how much I love you and miss you...you deserve to be here, not me..i love your daughters so much and I can see you in them..I will always feel like I let you down and im so sorry for being cold sometimes...i never wanted to grow distant from you..i have so many beautiful memories of you, even the ones where I pushed you a little too far and we'd both end up in trouble by mamacita..I will never let go of you, you were one of the only women on this planet that understood and could comfort me..forgive me for becoming what i am, after you left I lost control..so many nights now I need to hear your voice and the sorrow can be overwhelming..we were supposed to be here together with our own lives and keep each other on track..no one will ever know how bad this feels and i feel like our family just keeps getting smaller...I promise I will do my best to make sure the nieces have the uncle they need but Its hard sis, I feel so stupid lately..you were always my rock growing up..I miss you so much I would trade anything to bring you back..I love you so much Kayla and you will always be my one and only Sister..I will see you soon my love

“ Happy Birthday my sweet babygirl. Will see each other soon! I love you so very much!

I'm crying right now in grief. Some have said it gets easier as the years go by... I'm so waiting on that. Missing you, your daughters and Chan is an understatement. All four of you are always on my mind next to Jesus. Today I'm struggling with missing my kids. I messed up raising you both. I tried to do the best I could with what I knew and with what I had...I still became a horrible Mom. I try hard not to think about the last text I received from your brother some years ago. I did reply back to him and have gave him his space and I can't stand it...I miss him so much but I think he couldn't careless about me anymore. The last time I saw Baily and Haily....Baily was made to be afraid of me and refused to come with us for a weekend visitation. That was in 2015 of October. I told Nancy to let me know when they want to visit with us... haven't heard anything since. Am sure I'm the bad guy and they hate me too. It's all in God's hands as I can't do anything. But I still cry for them. I'm so very sorry for making a mess of yours and your brothers lives. I hope and pray one day Chan (if I'm still allowed to call him that) will forgive me and come visit. Until then, I will keep praying for him, my grandbabies, your Dad, and Nancy. I wish you were here but I know you can't be and I'm glad.... someday soon I'll be seeing you again, not a my daughter, but as my sister in Christ. Love you so much.

Love, Mommacita

“ Kayla, I'm sorry it took so long to get those photos up. I will add more as I find them. Had to pull them out of my old memory closet. I wish I had some pictures of Abby-Tail and you playing with her Kong. I bet she greeted you with a nice cold-wet nose and that you are playing with her right now. I wish I could have been there for you today, and I know you understand why I couldn't make it. I am quietly coping with your loss, and still in shock. Even though we were so distant, it has affected me deeply. I am glad we were able to briefly write each other before this time came. It is hard for me to understand why this had to happen to someone like you, when there are people out there that take life for granted and don't appreciate the little things. I wish I could have met your girls, but I can see in pictures how much they adored you, and you to them. I know you will protect them even in your absence. There are so many things I want to tell you; want the chance to reminisce the good times we had. These are memories I will never forget, and hope you won't either. You will be missed by all who knew you, family and friends alike. We will all be waiting for you to visit us, even if only in dreams, to tell us about your adventures beyond this world. We all await the day we can be with you again; to never have to part and to mourn no more. You will be forever missed, Kay.

I also want to reach out to the family. I want you all to know I empathize with your loss. I hope me not being there today, doesn't make you think any less of my sorrow for Kayla's passing. I know there is nothing I can do to make things better, but if there is anything that I can do, please don't hesitate to let me know. It is the least I can do for her. I know that she would want us all to live life to its fullest. The pain will never fully go away, but we will be with her soon, and I know she will wait for each and every one of us.

“ Kayla, I'm so sad that I can't be there tomorrow for you and the rest of the family. You were my sister; we laughed, fought, joked, and confided. After you had your first child, I loved having someone to confide with about the exhaustion of infants, yet the joy in getting to watch them grow. We had such great plans of them meeting, and I looked forward to your future. I love you, and I am so so sorry. :(I'm sure you are on the next great adventure, far more exciting than us jumping from rock to rock in the ditch by the old house.<3

“ << John 14 >>

1“Do not let your heart be troubled; believe in God, believe also in Me. 2“In My Father’s house are many dwelling places; if it were not so, I would have told you; for I go to prepare a place for you. 3“If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself, that where I am, there you may be also. 4“And you know the way where I am going.” 5Thomas said to Him, “Lord, we do not know where You are going, how do we know the way?” 6Jesus said to him, “I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father but through Me.

“ I carried you nine months. In labor 25 hours. Had you in my life for nearly 23 years. You will always be my kiwi head babygirl. You were beautiful since day one and will always be beautiful. Your beautiful daughters will know how special you are to everyone who loves you and misses you. Remember the times I would hide just to scare you. The time you snuck out of the house when you were two years old, just to retrieve the sucker you dropped on the ground the day before..i found you in the neighbors sandbox eating your ant covered sucker :) Baby girl, you were taken way too soon but there is a reason for everything. Youre supposed to be doing this for me and reading my obituary, not the other way around. I love you so much Kayla Eileen Stone, you have no idea how much I do! Rest in Peace my first born.
