“ Shortly after he got out of the US Army, Uncle Ray bought a brand new Red and white Mercury Convertible. It had rolled and pleated red and white vinyl seats, door panels, dash and trim. It was one of the most beautiful pieces of automotive engineering I have ever seen. Uncle Ray was just popping the buttons on his shirt with pride, and love for that car. I was in awe of it, and just as happy for him as I could be. Love you Uncle Ray!
