“ To the Wood Family:

As a "neighborhood kid," I will always remember Mrs. Wood as a very kind and caring person. She always had time for a story or laugh. After I moved away from Rensselaer, she often would stop to talk after church when I visited.

We bought our first dog, "Pedro," from your Jose. She told me she knew I would be a good owner, so she let me take it home in the pocket of my hoodie. I was maybe 6 or 7 at the time, and thrilled to death.

Godspeed to a wonderful lady.

“ Unfortunately I wasn't able to be home to say goodbye to the wonderful neighbor, friend, and woman I have come to know since childhood but I know that my mother made sure that she received the same pink rose I've given her every year since we moved. It has been a pleasure to know Mr. and Mrs. Wood and to always be welcome in their home to spend time in their company. I'll take her a rose every year as tradition carries on, just as her life will carry on in our hearts and memories.##imported-begin##Brianna Sammons##imported-end##

“ I am SO sad to hear of Shirley's passing. I first met Shirley when I was a part time library employee and she was a library board member. She was one of the most gracious, lovely, and kind women that I have ever met. She always greeted me with a smile and a twinkle in her eye. You have my deepest sympathy.##imported-begin##Cindy Stath##imported-end##

“ Dear Phil and family, Henry and I were deeply saddened by the news of Shirley's passing. I will always remember her as a beautiful and refined woman, both inside and out. We had some good times in Fairfield traipsing through the marshes to get to the beach and dealing with the fiddler crabs. Please know our thoughts and prayers are with all of you.###imported-begin###Barbara Coughlin###imported-end###

“ I might have been the youngest, loudest, most annoying, the one that REALLY tested your patience, etc; but you were always so gentle & loving.

You taught me to be a lady (well, attempted may be a little more appropriate), taught me all my manners, rocked me in the rocking chair while you sang your Irish Blessing, played the number game with me (which you told me years later that you always let me win...I thought I was actually good at it!), attempted to teach me quilting & knitting- but again, I think that falls into the 'attempted' category. You always let me drive the golf cart, even when you knew I would probably crash into Mary-Anne's cart. Regardless, you let me do it anyway & you did it with a smile on your face.

The most important thing you taught me & which I will carry with me every single day... is how to be a mother. I want you to know that you were the best mother there could ever be. You showed me motherly love when there wasn't any & I am forever thankful for that. You did everything a mother should do for her daughter & you're such an inspiration. Thank you.

You, Gramps, & Dad were always my number one's- still are! The promise we made to each other will always hold true, you have my word. I love you, Grammy. Save me a seat up there.

PS-- Sorry I accidentally hit you in the leg with the plastic baseball & yellow baseball bat (that we kept behind Grandpa's door) when I was six. You threw me a good pitch & I gave it a good swing. I know it hurt more than you let on. Love you.##imported-begin##Laura B aka 'Honey-girl, Snooks, & Shorty'##imported-end##

“ Dear Phil, Jeff, Bruce, and Richard....I am so sad to hear of Shirley's passing. She was my idol...each time I saw her, I called her "Mrs. America" because she had such a warmth about her that made me feel like she was perfect....and she would laugh and hug me. It is such a jolt to know that she is gone...just can't imagine Rensselaer without her! Hugs to you all....##imported-begin##Judy Burvan##imported-end##

“ Our family was very blessed to have enjoyed so many wonderful memories with such a great grandma! I learned a lot from you, and even though I flunked your knitting class, flunked piano and painting lessons and never really learned how to bite my tongue...I will take every memory and carry them in my heart until we meet again. You are deeply missed, but know you are resting peacefully with the Lord now. So until we meet again...

Forever Yours,
