“ What can I say about losing you, old friend? Nothing, save that that there is now one less ray of light on Earth - and more light than Heaven could ever deserve.

You are loved beyond words.##imported-begin##Garry Kranz##imported-end##

“ Our dearest friend, we will never forget you. Your illness and now your passing have saddened us deeply, most of all for our sakes. There is no doubt that you are worshiping our Lord even more richly than you did when you were with us. We are thankful that your suffering is over and thankful for the years that you blessed us with your love for life and your sincere friendship and can't wait to see you again someday. "What a day that will be!"

“ It was with great sadness that I learned of Steve's passing. Although we haven't seen him in years he was always good friend to Jim and I both. We recently had the pleasure of reconnecting with him online. We have many fond memories of him from the time he came to Newburgh and through the years after. He was a special person and will be greatly missed. Our thoughts and prayers are with all of his family and friends.
