Dear Tina, Betty and Family-My condolences to all of you. It's never easy getting used to the loss of a loved one but always keep in mind the blessings of special moments you were fortunate enough to share with him. Trust me when I say those memories will help you wind your way through your grief. I didn't know him well, but well enough to know two things about him. He worked hard during his lifetime to provide a good life for his family. But what I remember most about him, though, is that he was a man who always spoke his mind. He viewed the world in his own way and wasn't afraid to let you know about it. Tina, I remember laughing with you about that on more than one occasion! Anyway, please know you are all in my prayers, as he is, and I hope you continue to find comfort in one another as you mourn his loss. Some years ago I came across this quote and would like to share it with you now. "The greatest gift we can give to those who have left us is to live fully in their place." I think that would make him happy. Love Always-Jean Lambert
